Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 15 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny spells and feeling very warm.

Today:
A dry start with sunny spells through the morning. Lengthy periods of sunshine during the afternoon and feeling very warm across the region with light winds. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Tonight:
Remaining dry with spells of sunshine into the evening. Cloud increasing towards the far northwest overnight, elsewhere plenty of lengthy clear spells. A warm night in cities. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Wednesday:
A dry start with sunny spells through the morning and the afternoon. However, cloudier towards the far northwest. Cloud increasing into the evening with the risk of thundery showers overnight. Maximum temperature 26 deg C (79 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Heavy, possibly thundery showers clearing through the morning, then turning brighter later on Thursday. Occasional sunny spells and the risk of thundery showers later on Friday. Sunny spells on Saturday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.